BEAR CREEK ENTRANCE TO DENVER NATIONAL PARK

Denver is making most elaborate plans for entertaining the Fifty-second Annual Meeting of the National Conference of Social Work. First thought and consideration is given to the main purpose of the Conference, which undoubtedly is Work. The meetings of the various sectional and kindred groups are being scheduled in comfortable halls, so situated that the delegates may easily find their way from one to another. The Committee on Arrangements believes, however, that all work and no play not only makes Jack a dull boy, but also makes a Conference a dull and unprofitable experience.

MR. ROBERT A. WOODS

Social workers all over the United States received the news of the death of Mr. Robert A. Woods with a feeling of personal loss. For years he had been one of the leading social thinkers of America, and by the charm of his personality, the beauty of his character and the earnestness of his purpose he had gained both the respect and affection of all who had been privileged to know him.

He always held the welfare of the National Conference of Social Work very close to his heart and served it unselfishly and gladly both as its honored President and as a member of its Executive Committee.

Those who had the privilege of serving with him will ever remember his sympathetic attitude, quiet dignity, clear judgment and willing co-operation in anything which he regarded as being for the best interests of the Conference which he had loved so long and served so well.

He will be missed by all who knew him, but the impress which he left upon social work will endure for years, and the memory of his devoted and unselfish service will be an abiding encouragement to those into whose hands his work has fallen.

NEW OFFICERS

The Constitution of the National Conference provides that the Nominating Committee shall, through the BULLETIN, solicit suggestions of names of persons for all elective offices to be filled. Pursuant to this constitutional provision, there appears in this issue of the BULLETIN a form designed to be used by the members of the Conference in signifying their choice as to nominees for various offices. The Executive Committee requests that as many as possible of the membership of the Conference avail themselves of the opportunity thus offered to express their wishes to the Committee on Nominations.

REGISTRATION FEE

A registration fee of twenty-five cents will be charged all members of the Conference registering at the Denver meeting. The purpose of this nominal fee is to enable the Conference to meet certain expenses necessarily incident to the annual meeting without interfering with its budget allowances and at the same time without imposing an appreciable economic burden upon any member of the Conference.

SPECIAL TRAINS TO NATIONAL CONFERENCE FROM NEW YORK AND CHICAGO

In order to increase the attendance at the National Conference, and add to the pleasure of those who will journey to Denver from the Atlantic Coast territory, Dr. Thos. J. Riley announces that arrangements have been made with the Pennsylvania and the Rock Island Railroad, for a special train which will leave New York on Sunday, June 7th, at 6:10 P. M., arriving in Denver Wednesday morning at 7:40 o'clock. Plans have been made for the outgoing trip only, allowing everybody to return when they wish and by the route they may prefer. All the details of this special trip are in the hands of the representatives of the Pennsylvania Railroad and the Rock Island Railway, and their New York offices or your local representative of these roads will be very glad to assist anyone in plans for going.

The National Conference is the greatest gathering of social workers in the world, and Denver offers beautiful attractions as a convention city. The trip is not expensive, and every social worker, public welfare official, officer, and director of welfare societies should go. It is a wonderful opportunity, and by traveling together it will add greatly to the pleasure and profit of the Conference. Dr. Riley advises that the preliminary announcements of this special train from the Atlantic Seaboard have been met with a great deal of enthusiasm, and he promises an interesting and profitable journey for all who make the trip. Following is the time schedule for the "special."

It is giving due consideration, therefore, to the recreational needs of the delegates, believing that only with a proper mixture of work and play will the maximum benefits of the Conference result to those privileged to attend.

The chief recreational event will take place Saturday afternoon when opportunity will be given to take a sixty-five-mile trip through Denver's Mountain Parks. Leaving the Civic Center by auto at 2:00 o'clock the long caravan will travel over the new concrete highway to Morrison, a little mountain town which marks the entrance to the most unique municipally owned scenic region in the world. Entering Bear Creek Canyon, the splendid motor way leads between towering granite walls, broken occasionally by purple mountain valleys, for sixteen miles to Evergreen, a beautiful mountain village, hemmed in by pine-clad slopes in which are nestled the summer cottages of residents from twenty-seven States. The road then begins to climb some 2,000 feet over long and winding grades to Bergen and Fillius Parks, continuing over a rolling country to Genesee, a park of over 2,060 acres; in which are located a game preserve in which roam herds of buffalo, elk, mountain sheep, and deer; while near by is a silver fox farm. Lookout Mountain is the next most interesting point, on whose summit is the grave of Col. W. F. Cody (Buffalo Bill), buried there by the City of Denver; and near by is Pahaska Tepee, a rustic museum containing the famous personal relics of the veteran scout. The descent from Lookout is made over the famous Lariat Trail, descending 2,000 feet in 5.6 miles. Points of interest on the trail are Wild Cat Point, Windy Point, Upper Hairpin, Windy Saddle, Lower Hairpin, Sensation Point. The road then passes by Golden, second capital of Colorado, and thence by concrete road back to Denver.

The party will return in time for the delegates to get dinner at their hotels and to get a little rest before the President's reception and ball, which will be held in the Municipal Auditorium, where one thousand couples can dance with comfort at one time.

Some of the many other interesting trips possible to make are explained elsewhere in this Bulletin. At the Information Desk at the Conference Headquarters full and detailed information will be available as to the many trips and vacation opportunities that will be open to those who attend the Conference.

One-Day Trips Through Denver's Mountain Parks

Denver has 19 mountain parks, aggregating 5,000 acres, scattered over a region of 100 square miles in three adjoining counties connected by wonderful boulevard roads. Shelter houses, well houses, stone ovens for campers, picnic grounds, and children's playgrounds, have been built by the City.

The Circle Trip

The premier one-day auto trip from Denver is called the Circle Trip through the Mountain Parks, a distance of 65 miles and including the famous Lariat Trail up Lookout Mountain. The highest elevation reached is 8,270 feet. The Circle Trip passes through Golden, Bergen Park, Evergreen, and Morrison.

Mt. Evans Drive

The famous Mt. Evans Drive is the cream of all Colorado automobile roads. It starts at Bergen Park, 30 miles from Denver Civic Center and passes by easy grades over beautiful wooded hills to Echo Lake at an elevation of 10,600 feet. There are wonderful panoramas of the Continental Divide from this road which is now being extended to the summit of Mt. Evans, an elevation of more than 14,000 feet. Echo Lake is 50 miles from Denver.

Devil's Head Park

One of the most beautiful one-day automobile trips from Denver is that to Devil's Head Park (elevation 9,348 feet), Lookout Station of the United States Forest Service. This road follows the main Denver-Colorado Springs highway to Sedalia, thence up Jarr Canyon, from which a fork leads off to Devil's Head Mountain. The "Peak Finder" here enables the visitor to locate any peak north or south for hundreds of miles.

Daniels Park

Daniels Park, formerly known as Wild Cat Mountain and Auto View, 25 miles south of Denver, is noted as having the finest sunset view of the Rockies in the vicinity of Denver.

Idaho Springs

At Bergen Park where the left-hand road takes one toward Mt. Evans, the right-hand road leads to Idaho Springs, which has an elevation of 7,543 feet. This is a popular resort known for its radio-active hot springs. Interesting road trips may be made from here to various lakes and peaks. Idaho Springs is 38 miles from Denver and may also be reached by train.

The Glacier Region

The newest and most spectacular scenic region to be opened to the tourist in the vicinity of Denver is the Arapahoe Peak and Glacier Region. This is reached through Boulder, 29 miles northwest of Denver. Boulder has a City Mountain Park of 6,000 acres containing many interesting points. The glacier region is reached by the main highway up Boulder Canyon to Nederland, thence north to Glacier Lake, which is the diversion point for the Arapahoe Glacier. Ward is the diversion point for the Isabel and Fair Glaciers, Stapp's Lake and Pead-ful Valley for the St. Vrain Glaciers. To reach any of the glaciers, eight or ten miles must be traveled by foot or on horseback and at least one extra day is needed for the trip.

Platte Canyon

Platte Canyon, the site of many beautiful fishing resorts—the best trout fishing near Denver—is accessible by two auto routes and also by train.

Coal Creek

A very beautiful canyon trip. Leaves Denver by the road through Arvada, thence up beautiful Coal Creek Canyon to Nederland, down Boulder Canyon to Boulder, and back to Denver.

Georgetown Loop (Railroad Trip)

Points of interest are Clear Creek Canyon, Idaho Springs, Georgetown, the famous Loop, and Silver Plume. Time, eight and one-half hours by train.

Moffat Road

Corona and the Top of the World. Nine hours by train. Wonderful views. Passes East Portal of Moffat Tunnel now being bored through Jason's Peak.

A Two-Day Trip

A magnificent two-day automobile trip is that from Denver to Rocky Mountain National Park (Estes Park), over the Fall River Road with an elevation of nearly 12,000 feet at Milner Pass, to Grand Lake on the western slope of the divide where there are excellent hotels. On the second day of the trip one returns to Denver by way of Granby, Fraser, Berthoud Pass, and Idaho Springs.

Colorado Springs and the Pike's Peak Region

This district will well repay the motorist for time spent here where there are many wonderful scenic drives. Colorado Springs is just 75 miles from Denver with an excellent connecting road.

A Three-Day Trip

A splendid three-day trip is known as the Peak to Peak Drive. One goes from Denver to Estes Park, from there via Allens Park, Ward, Nederland, Black Hawk, Central City, and Idaho Springs, to Evergreen and Troutdale, spending the second night at Troutdale. Thence via Conifer, Shaffers Crossing, Deckers, to Colorado Springs and the Pike's Peak Region.

Mesa Verde National Park—Eight-Day Trip

The chief charm of the Mesa Verde National Park is the ruins of the habitations and dwellings of the Cliff Dwellers. It may be reached by railroad or by auto. Eight days should be allowed for the automobile trip.

Special Alpine Tour

A special touring party limited to one hundred persons will leave Denver by automobile on Thursday morning, June 18th, driving to Estes Park via the famous Big Thompson Canyon. Four days will be spent at Bear Lake Lodge with delightful walking and riding trips available. Then three days will be spent at Fern Lodge on Fern Lake, long known as the "beauty spot" of the Park. The return to Denver is via the North St. Vrain. A special rate has been made for the eight-day tour and reservations should be made early.

ELECTRIC FOUNTAIN IN CITY PARK

PLACES TO GO AND SIGHTS TO SEE IN DENVER

Denver is primarily a tourist city and it is accustomed to entertaining visitors. But it was with special forethought that the National Conference was planned to just precede the regular tourist season in order that the conference delegates might enjoy all the privileges of the tourist without being handicapped by throngs of sight-seeing travelers.

PARKS

The park system of Denver is unlike any in the country. It may be classified into two groups: City Parks and Boulevards and Mountain Parks and Highways. In the first division there are forty-one parks, not including the seventeen supervised children's playgrounds. There are eighteen miles of improved parkways. At Berkeley and Washington Parks, in full view of the mountains, one can enjoy bathing in the lakes. One can also swim in the Municipal Bath House which is located in the heart of the business district.

AMUSEMENT CENTERS

Elitch's Gardens can be reached by trolley car from Sixteenth Street. It is well-named, a garden spot of flowers, with all the facilities of an amusement park, as well as an open-air theater where many New York companies have played for a season, and the best dance floor for summer dancing in the city. Just a few blocks beyond Elitch's is Lakeside, a similar resort, but known especially for its mountain trout dinners.

"Movie Row" in Denver, is located on Curtis Street, which, according to Edison, is the best lighted two blocks in the United States.

CIVIC CENTER

Denver's Civic Center has an area of 16.75 acres, lying adjacent to the State Capitol Building. It is still in the formative stage. The buildings and statues on Civic Center consist of the Colonnade of Civic Benefactors and Open Air Theater, Voorhies Memorial and Pool, "Bucking Broncho" (statue), and "On the War Path" (statue), Pioneer

SPECTACULAR LOCHVALE

Monument. Most of these were gifts to the City of Denver by citizens. The Denver Public Library stands on Civic Center. There are eight branch library buildings and thirty-two deposit stations operated by the Library Board.

HABITAT ZOO

The Habitat Zoo in City Park, costing $40,000, is the first of its kind in the world. Wild animals are confined by moats filled with water and huge concrete cliffs modeled direct from cliffs in the Rocky Mountains, and stained natural colors with mineral pigments, surmounted by growing trees and natural mountain shrubbery. St. Louis employed the designer of this zoo to erect a similar structure there.

MUNICIPAL AUTO CAMP

This cosmopolitan auto tourist street of the world is in Denver's $250,000 auto camp at Overland Park, where tent houses are pitched and hold travelers from everywhere. On summer nights the city of canvas numbers 5,000 people. The motorist registers, selects his camp site, and receives free bath and laundry privileges; also reading, writing, and rest-room facilities. The camp grounds, with its woodlands and open spaces, contains a community clubhouse, grocery store, restaurant, and filling stations. Cool nights are the rule in this tent-house recreation spot—a mile above sea level—maintained by the City of Denver. The park contains 160 acres and is fourteen minutes' drive from the business district. A charge of 50 cents a day for a car is made.

Meeting Place of Divisions V and IX.

GOLF

Denver has two city-owned golf links—an 18-hole course at City Park, said to be the longest golf link in the world, and a 9-hole course at Evergreen, in the Denver Mountain Park, Lakewood and Rocky Mountain Country Clubs; also the Cherry Hills Club. Those enjoying this game will find opportunity to display their skill on these various links.

SPORTS

If one's fancy turns toward other sports, there are for recreation and amusement sixty-two tennis courts, three race tracks, twenty-two baseball diamonds, trap-shooting course at Sloan's

Lake, fly-casting pool in the Sunken Gardens, boating on three lakes, and free fishing in Washington, Sloan's, Berkeley, and Rocky Mountain Lakes.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS

The principal public buildings of interest in Denver are: the Municipal Auditorium, costing $650,000, seating 12,000 persons, with a theater capacity of 3,300; here is located the beautiful $85,000 municipally owned pipe organ; the State Capitol Building, with its solid gold dome, the new State Office Building and Museum, forming an artistic trio on Capitol Hill; the white marble Post Office in the business district; the United States Army Hospital, including one hundred buildings; the Public Library and the Mint. The greatest amount of gold bullion in America is kept in the Denver Mint.

UNIVERSITY OF DENVER

The University of Denver, the oldest institution of higher learning in the West, was founded sixty years ago by Territorial-Governor John Evans and a group of other pioneer citizens of Colorado. It has grown in sixty years to be one of the leading urban universities of the Rocky Mountain region. The present institution is composed of a college of liberal arts; schools of commerce, law and dentistry; and a large summer school and extension college. The total enrollment is more than 3,600 students.

HOTEL INFORMATION

Nearly 1,500 delegates have already made their hotel reservations for the week of the Conference. The Brown Palace, Albany, Shirley-Savoy, and Metropole Hotels have been booked to capacity. None of the leading hotels have any more single rooms, but those listed below still have a number of double rooms, with twin beds when requested. The Local Committee on Hotels and Housing will be able to care for those who insist on having single rooms in a number of the smaller hotels or in private homes and in lodging houses. Denver, being largely a tourist city, has hundreds of fine rooming houses, many of them within walking distance of Conference meetings, and lodging can be secured for as low as a dollar a night. Those who have not yet made their reservations may do so by corresponding direct with the hotels listed below, or by writing to Mr. Guy T. Justis, Denver Community Chest, who is Secretary of the Local Committee on Arrangements.

CASE RECORD EXHIBIT

The committee on the Case Record Exhibit, consisting of Miss Joanna C. Colcord, New York; Mrs. Carl W. Painter, New York; and Miss Lila Kinney, Denver, is arranging a case record exhibit at the Denver meeting of the National Conference of Social Work. The display will include the material exhibited last year at the Toronto Conference and special additional data on the same subjects and a few others gathered from numerous societies and organizations.

The exhibit has been assigned very accessible permanent quarters in the east room on the main floor of the Central Presbyterian Church. Section meetings of the Conference Division on The Family, which is sponsoring the exhibit, will be held in the auditorium of the same church.

JOINT MEETINGS OF THE CHILD WELFARE LEAGUE OF AMERICA AND
NATIONAL CHILDREN'S HOME AND WELFARE ASSOCIATION

These meetings, annually held at the time and place of the National Conference, will be held in the Albany Hotel, Denver, on June 10, 11, and 12 at such times that they do not conflict with meetings of the National Conference. All persons interested in the discussion of work for dependent and neglected children are invited to take part.

JOINT LUNCHEON

On Monday, June 15th, the Conference Division on Neighborhood and Community Life, National Community Center Association and National Country Life Association will hold a joint luncheon, time and place to be announced later.

The speakers will be C. W. Pugsley, President of South Dakota State College of Agriculture, and Professor Robert E. Park of the University of Chicago, who is directing the study of race relations on the Pacific Coast for the Institute of Social and Religious Research. They will speak on "Hindrances to Urban and Rural Community Organization."

SECRETARIES OF STATE WELFARE
CONFERENCES

A luncheon meeting of the Secretaries of State Welfare Conferences will be held on Monday, June 15, at Denver, in connection with the National Conference of Social Work.

At a similar meeting last year, a committee was requested to make a study of state conference methods. This study is now nearing completion and the report will be the main matter of business at the luncheon meeting. Further notice as to place will be sent to the individual state secretaries.

CAMP OLYMPUS

Colorado State Teacher's College, situated at Greeley, Colorado, fifty-five miles from Estes National Park, which is more visited than any other national park in America, has established a camp for teachers who come to college for the summer session from nearly all the States of the Union and who are eager to enjoy the week-end excursion into the heart of the Rockies. Camp Olympus wants to bring the mountains with all their wealth of health and happiness within the reach of teachers and students who have limited financial resources and as a consequence cannot afford the higher rates charged by the more expensive resorts.

The Camp is a lodge, not tents, with huge fireplaces, electric lights, and modern sanitation, and the food is the very best. Simplicity is the watchword of the Camp. Dr. and Mrs. John R. Bell, who have charge, are trying to make it a place of rest and recreation, of physical and mental up-building. To this end riding, hiking, and other forms of exercise in the open air are stressed.

Camp Olympus is just two and one-half miles from Estes Park village. Horses and autos can be secured at any time by telephone. Government guides are available for those groups wishing to organize extended trips and the camp provides guides to points of interest in the immediate vicinity of Estes Park. Rates at the Camp are $3.00 per day, $17.50 per week, $60.00 by the month.

Camp Olympus is planning to make as many reservations for social workers as possible between the dates of June 17th and 25th (individuals may remain longer by special arrangements made in advance), and will be glad to assist other members of the National Conference to find desirable accommodations in the park.

Dr. Bell, a former social worker, will count it a privilege to make helpful suggestions to any who care to ask questions about the park in particular or Colorado in general. Address, Dr. John R. Bell, Director of Extension Service, Colorado State Teacher's College, Greeley, Colorado.
